In a rear end collision of Panhandle freight trains four miles west of Bunker Hill, a station in Miami county on the Lake Erie, four trainmen lost their lives and one was cremated. The wreckage caught fire and several cars were burned. The men who were killed were the flagman, brakeman, conductor and fireman.

The new two-cent piece soon to be issued by the government will be unlike any other current coin in that it will have a hole in the center, something like the Chinese money. The new innovation was deemed necessary on account of the likeness to the present nickel five-cent piece in size and alloy. It has already been designated the "doughnut coin," because of the hole in the middle.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

The publisher of this paper has made arrangements of unusual interest to the people of Marshall county. Everybody has heard of the great life of William McKinley, from his birth to his death, written by his friend, Murat Halstead, the brilliant editor. This book is now in press and is being turned out by thousands so as to be ready for early delivery. The price of the book is $1.50 and it cannot be bought for less. We make a combination offer of unequalled liberality, as follows: The Tribune one year, paid in advance and the book, for $2.00. The Daily Tribune ten weeks, paid in advance and the book, for $1.50. Do not pay a long price to any agent for a Life of McKinley, but get the best under this offer. A copy can be seen now at this office.

Shooting Affray at Bremen.

At the Bourbon fair last week Sam Watson, a tough character in the employ of the oil company at Bremen, concluded that he did not like the dog and pony show in the grounds and indulged in some loud and vigorous criticism, which was resented by the show people. Sunday the show was moved to Bremen fair grounds and Watson, abetted and instigated by one Herb Austin, a tough jockey, went down to the tent to clean the dog show out.

Both men were pretty well filled with booze and Watson began shooting through the tent. The show people came out and ordered the firing to cease, but Watson only added vituperation to the fusillade. Some one connected with the show then opened fire and a lively battle ensued, resulting in one casualty only: Watson got shot in the neck.

The two toughs ran to the oil well for help, but were ordered off the premises and Watson was discharged. He jumped a freight train for Ohio, where he came from, and his companion struck off north through the country. The injury of Watson was not serious though quite bloody and if he had not escaped he and Austin would have been arrested.

Nothing But Ashes.

Silas Morgan, of Logansport, passed through Plymouth Tuesday forenoon with the remains of Thomas P. Brocius, a brakeman, who was killed and cremated in the horrible wreck of Sunday morning on the Panhandle near Logansport. The remains consist of but a handful of ashes. The funeral and burial took place at Inwood in the afternoon.

Forestry in Kosciusko.
State Forester W. H. Freeman has planned a forest, to be set out on the land belonging to E. H. Hohman, of Claypool, Kosciusko county. The land is to be set in walnut and white oak trees. Mr. Freeman reports that much interest is being taken in the work of reforestation. He has many requests for his services.

Bremen Fair.

The fair ground at Bremen is filling with exhibits and attractions and a big string of fine horses is being assembled. The track is in excellent condition and good speed is expected. The officials say this will be the biggest and best of the thirteen annual fairs given by the association.

Death of a Child.

Irral Rumsay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rumsay, died Sunday of inflammation of the bowels induced by too much violent jumping while at play. The little girl was eight years and ten months old and was sick but one week after the injuries were received. The funeral was held at the Episcopal church on North Center street Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, the services being conducted by Rev. W. W. Raymond. The burial will be at Oak Hill.

Dr. Ph. D. Paul of Chicago may be consulted on all diseases of the eye and ear, at the home of Mrs. M. Yockley, Plymouth, Wed. Oct. 23. (Fees, if permitted.) Consultations free.

A NEW ADVANCE

Growth of a Printing Establishment That Wins by Merit.

The business of this office has increased to such an extent that new room, increased facilities and more help have become necessary and we have promptly met the demand by leasing the entire upper floor of the building we now occupy, putting in additional type, implements and stock, and increasing our force. We have the largest, completest and best-equipped printing office in the county and as good a job printer as there is in northern Indiana. The rush of job work has kept us behind in filling orders for some time but we will now "catch up" and be prepared for all comers.

It is not boasting for us to point out facts that are visible to all who care to look and so we can say with propriety that we have the largest and best job, newspaper and book printing establishment, using the most machinery and employing the most help, in this city; that we publish the best daily and weekly papers and have the largest circulation for both, and that persons desiring job work or advertising get better results from money paid to us than in any other way.

We now occupy the entire Bissell building of two stories and basement, 24 by 60 feet, we have the largest and fastest newspaper press in the county, one large job press capable of printing newspapers if necessary, three other job presses, the only folding machine in the county, all of which are run by two engines operating independently. These, with the smaller machines, implements and a full supply of up-to-date type give us an equipment that is fully equal to all requirements of this city and vicinity. The services of ten persons, exclusive of boys, are constantly employed in the business and they have no time to loaf.

We take a just pride in the growth of our business and in the influential position occupied by our papers, all of which has been gained by merit alone and without any outside or public help. Come and see us.

Prison Sunday.

The observation of Prison Sunday by the churches of our land is had with increasing interest each year. Indiana is sharing in this. Her work in prison reform and the steps she has taken for the prevention of pauperism and crime lead us to expect that. Last year hundreds of churches in this state observed the day that has been designated Prison Sunday, the last Sunday in October. On it, consideration was given to those things which lead to crime, as well as to the effects of crime; to criminals and their treatment; to efforts at reforming the offender and measures for the prevention of crime. In these and kindred topics our people are deeply interested. This year Prison Sunday is October 27th. Several of the district and state meetings of different denominations have adopted resolutions requesting their ministers to observe the day. The result will be many other churches will take part in the observance. All those who contemplate doing so are requested to write the board of state charities, Indianapolis.

Mrs. Mary Reidinger Dead.

The death of Mrs. Mary Reidinger, wife of Joseph Reidinger, occurred at 11:30 Tuesday at her home near the Thayer elevator. Mrs. Reidinger, who was past 80 years of age, was born in Bavaria. She came to Plymouth in 1855 and has lived here ever since. Besides her husband two children survive her, John Suseland and Mrs. Peter Stegman, both by her first husband. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon.

Since it directly concerns the best interest of every home, the progress of every church, the prosperity of our country, we freely appeal to all to heartily co-operate with the Sunday School Association in making known the purpose and value of the visitation, securing volunteers and helping in the work, to attend and assist the "Advisory Committee" in making the "Union Meetings" of the week a success, and your help and presence in the Decision Day service in the School on Sunday, Oct. 27th.

SCHOOLS OF WEST TOWNSHIP

The Work For the Year Starts Off Satisfactorily.

The schools of West township opened this week with an attendance that was highly gratifying to Trustee Henry B. Hall. The high school, now first established, made a beginning that is regarded as most auspicious, there being 29 students, of whom 25 were in attendance the first day. The high school department occupies the West school, No. 5. The teachers of the several districts are as follows:

No. 1—Clifton H. Grube
" 2—Frank Wolf
" 3—Joseph Whitesell
" 4—Albert J. Frank
" 5—Charles N. Jordan (High School)
" 6—Ida Asp (Primary)
" 7—Nellie Cole
" 8—Charles Paddock
" 9—Claude Garrison
" 10—Charles H. Burt
" 11—Katurah Rhodes
" 12—Claudia Richey
" 13—Maise Thompson.

All these have been heretofore employed in west township except Mr. Jordan and Misses Asp, Cole and Thompson.

WAR ANNIVERSARY

A Great Battle Was Fought 39 Years Ago Tuesday.

In August, 1892, Gen. Braxton Bragg, commander of the confederate army then at Chattanooga, Tenn., cut loose from his base of supplies and tried to beat General Buell into Louisville, Ky., Buell being commander of the department of Ohio and stationed in Mississippi and Tennessee. That historic foot-race the Yanks reached the goal first, then Bragg was more anxious to get out of Kentucky than he had been to get in.

In his hurried retreat he was forced to make a stand near Crab Orchard, Ky., and there occurred, Oct. 8, 1862, one of the great battles of the war.

The union forces consisted of A. Mc D. McCook's army of 18,000 men and Bragg, Polk and Stuart, the combined rebel forces, had 40,000. The victory over the confederates was complete, their losses being 1,300 killed, 3,000 wounded, 200 prisoners, and the Union losses were 916 killed, 2,943 wounded, 480 prisoners.

The battle of Perryville, one of the bloodiest battles of the war of the rebellion, was fought thirty-nine years ago Tuesday. Thomas Cole and John A. Palmer of this city were there.

Autumn Days in the Woods.

The clear skies, bracing atmosphere and tinted foliage of the past few days, particularly Saturday and Sunday, irresistibly attract city people to the woods and the ripening nuts furnish the immediate incentive for many pleasant trips. Walnuts and hickory nuts are plentiful this season, though not to be found in such numbers as before the woodman's ax performed its deadly mission, and the enterprising small boy may be trusted to pilot any ordinary expedition to the productive spots. No adult is so staid and sober but that the deep-stained fingers of almost every lad he meets these autumn days will awaken sympathetic memories of auld lang syne, when the world was new and hope ran high.

What We Are Coming To.

Mezieres, France, has probably the distinction of having the first automobile savings bank. It consists of an electric motor carriage containing four seats, one for the driver, two for the clerks and one for a cashier. The vehicle carries a small safe and folding shelves make a desk for persons standing outside the vehicle who are depositing. It travels about the country, making short stops in the villages on stated days, and receives such sums as the inhabitants of the neighborhood desire to deposit. —Scientific American.

Look Out For This Man.

Look out for the man with the headache powder to sell. He calls at the house and asks the lady of the house to sample a new headache cure that he is introducing, warranted to dispose of the most obstinate pain in one sniff. If she is not posted she sniffs and goes to dreamland, waking to find all ready portable articles in reach have disappeared with the affable agent.
